

DESIGN ON A DIME

E. Lawrence Design

E. Lawrence Design is a full service interior decorating and design firm founded on the belief that a client’s home should be as comfortable and functional as it is beautiful. The firm was founded in 2010 by Eric Lawrence Winnick with a focus on stylish design and a uncompromising high level of service.

With a cultivated passion for interior design, Eric started his career at the renowned New York-based firm KA Design, where he worked for several years under the apprenticeship of Kenny Alpert. Working on projects in Aspen, the Hamptons, New York City and Miami, Eric honed his own personal aesthetic, focusing on sophisticated, clean, functional, and most importantly comfort. A strong point of view and vision lends itself to a Eric’s work, creating spaces that fit the lifestyle and needs of his clients.

After leaving KA Design, Eric’s first independent project was a 2 bed room co-op in New York City. He has worked on such clients including Scruff and Dr. Natalia Potapova.

In 2012, Eric was selected a rising star by The Design Center of the Americas, has been featured in Modern Luxury’s Miami Magazine, being named a “tailor of design”, has participated in “Patterns for Paws”, a Design Fashion Show to benefit South Florida Humane Society and Housing Work’s annual “Design on a Dime” benefit.

With offices in both New York and Miami, Eric’s clients have always valued the level of transparency and integrity that he brings to every project.
